

INSPIRING STORIES OF EYE DONATION

Case Study IV

It is universally accepted truth that life is the best teacher for anyone. But not everyone has the same psychological capacities to deal with the uncertainties of life boldly. This is one such tragedy but in which has ended on an optimist's note in the form of eye donation. A is a young man who was constantly challenged by life.

Unable to find solutions and end to his hardships and misery he had decided to commit suicide. But before committing suicide he had written a letter and kept it in his pocket which was found after his death. He has expressed his wish to donate his eyes after his death in the letters. He has adored the blind in his letter. He thought in spite of having eyes was unable to see the brighter aspects of life but with he donating his eyes after his death the blind in turn may overcome their blindness and lead a happy life.

He had expressed that he hopes that his eyes which have not seen anything except the pessimism of life would see the brighter side of life when given to two blind people. Though his intention of donating eyes after his death is good, his weak willed personality which has committed a very heinous deed of committing suicide is in no way justifiable. A person with depression and such suicide tendency can lead a happy and better life when he consults a psychiatrist or a counsellor.